

The social side

Lucie Blodgett

Social
Columnist

Pam's primitives

For another treat, go by the Swearington Gallery in Brownsboro Center to see Pam Miles' primitive paintings. Pam is so beautiful herself she "decorates" any occasion she attends. She has a fine sense of color and design in the clothes she wears.

This same flair is evident in her colorful paintings which were inspired by the tropics in South America.

Her husband, Mike Miles, head of Kentucky Fried Chicken, was on hand at the opening wine and cheese party at the gallery on Saturday, Oct. 18.

ARTIST PAM MILES with her primitive painting "Road to Market" in a show which opened at Swearingin Gallery on Saturday, Oct. 18.